ENMU-ROSWELL FOUNDATION ANNOUNCES NEW SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

The Eastern New Mexico University-Roswell Foundation has announced the details of a new scholarship program for students at Sunset Elementary School. The CAPS or College Access Program Scholarships will make it possible for every student at Sunset Elementary School to attend ENMU-Roswell after high school graduation. Through ENMU-Roswell and the Community Foundation of Chaves County, the program will also provide for mentoring of students as they continue their education. Sunset Elementary School is one of ENMU-Roswell's partner schools through the Rural Community College Initiative (RCCI) grant, which is funded by the Ford Foundation to promote community improvement activities. The students received the scholarships, a small bag of school supplies, and a 'CAP Scholar' baseball cap, during graduation ceremonies held May 20 in the Performing Arts Center on the ENMU-Roswell campus.

The ENMU-Roswell Foundation is sponsoring $50 scholarships for every graduating fifth and sixth grader from Sunset Elementary School this year and students will receive an additional $50 for each year of school completed through high school graduation. In future years, students will receive the first $50 when they graduate from the fifth grade. The ENMU-Roswell Foundation will transfer the funds to graduating seniors once those graduates have enrolled in classes at ENMU-Roswell. The funds can be used for tuition, fees, books, supplies, and tools as needed. Interest accumulated by the combined fund for each specific class will be divided among students who remain in the cohort and enroll at ENMU-Roswell. High school students can use the scholarship funds prior to graduation, if the money is used to pay for concurrent enrollment costs while they are in high school. GED graduates will not be eligible to use the funds. If a student does not finish high school, the funds placed in the account will be returned to the scholarship program. Graduates must use the scholarship funds within two years of graduation, or they will be returned to the scholarship program. Students must graduate from a high school in Chaves County in order to receive the scholarship funds. Once a student moves out of the Chaves County, his/her scholarship funds are forfeited.

ENMU-R Provost Dr. Judy Armstrong speaks with Larry Harris, ENMU-R Foundation member. Harris sports one of the new CAPS baseball caps that were given to Sunset graduates to signify they are College Access Program Scholarship students.

"CAPS is a wonderful way to bring together our foundation, the Community Foundation of Chaves County, and our RCCI partner school, Sunset, in order to promote high school graduation, decrease the drop-out rate, and increase the college participation rate." said Dr. Judy Armstrong, ENMU-Roswell Provost. She said other businesses and organizations are also being recruited to join the program. "In school year 2004-05, we hope be included in the program and at least four schools in Chaves County will be added each subsequent year until all of our county schools are a part of CAPS," she said.

ENMU-ROSWELL FOUNDATION ANNOUNCES NEW SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

Not only will the CAPS scholars build a college fund, they will build relationships with mentors assigned to support them in various ways. ENMU-Roswell staff will be responsible for record keeping and will share coordination and oversight of the mentoring program with the Community Foundation of Chaves County. "Mentors will make sure that students have appropriate uniforms and supplies for each school year and that the students have the appropriate immunizations and other health issues taken care of before the school year starts," said Jane Batson, ENMU-Roswell Division of Health Chair, who also helps to coordinate the RCCI grant activities. "Mentors will also provide information on career choices and check on their students two to four times a year to see how they are progressing.

"All of these support services are needed to keep these children in school," she said.

Batson said CAPS has the following goals:

1. Increase the retention rate for each cohort of students completing grade 5 and entering grade 6 by at least 10 percent over the baseline of students completing 6th grade and entering the 7th grade from 2003 to 2004.
2. Provide career information and guidance for at least 60 percent of students in each cohort.
3. Involve at least 50 Chaves County agencies and businesses in the program by the end of the third year.
4. Coordinate the mentoring program to insure that all similar programs in the County are involved as partners.
5. Increase the percentage of Chaves County population with a college degree by 2 percent based on data from the 2010 census.
6. Reduce the percentage of adults over age 25 in Chaves County who have less than a high school diploma by 1 percent by 2010.
7. Identify and assist parents with less than a high school diploma or college degree to achieve that goal.

Sunset Elementary graduates prepare to receive their certificates.

ENMU-R Provost Dr. Judy Armstrong gives a graduate his certificate.

ENMU-ROSWELL INSTRUCTORS HONORED BY CHARACTER COUNTS!

Three instructors at Eastern New Mexico University-Roswell were among a group of area teachers honored April 29 as 2004 Teachers of Character. Dr. Suzanne Berry, Child Development Center director; Susan Golden, Nursing instructor; and Ferron Sutton, Drafting and Design, Industrial Engineering Technology instructor, all received bronze awards as Teachers of Character for 2004 by Character Counts! in Chaves County. The awards ceremony recognized 20 bronze winners, five silver winners, and one gold winner from a list of 78 teachers nominated. Eastern New Mexico Medical Center hosted the event.

Also during the ceremony, District Judge and Character Counts! board member, Alvin Jones, made a special presentation to State Representative, Avon Wilson, who is the Adult Basic Education director at ENMU-Roswell. Due to illness, Wilson could not attend the event, but Jones praised her as an educator who has made a huge impact because of her dedication and support. Hilda Pacheco, Assistant director of the Adult Basic Education program, accepted the award on Wilson's behalf.

Hilda Pacheco accepted the plaque on Avon's behalf from Judge Alvin Jones.

ENMU-ROSWELL CHILD DEVELOPMENT CENTER DIRECTOR
TO HELP DEVELOP LEGISLATIVE AGENDA

Lieutenant Governor, Diane Denish has invited Dr. Suzanne Berry, director of the Child Development program at ENMU-Roswell to participate in a Children's Cabinet Early Childhood Initiative. The project will develop an Early Childhood Action Agenda for the next legislative session. "As an early childhood community, we are attempting to align all the services for young children (birth through 8) and their families," said Berry. She is also currently President of the New Mexico Association for the Education of Young Children (NMAEYC). Berry was recently honored as a 2004 Teacher of Character by Character Counts! in Chaves County.

Berry said the T.E.A.C.H. (Teacher Education And Compensation Helps) Early Childhood NEW MEXICO Project will be included in the New Mexico early childhood initiative. The T.E.A.C.H. project awards scholarships to early childhood professionals/child care workers to complete course work in early childhood education and to increase their compensation. In 2003, NMAEYC won a competitive bidding process from the New Mexico Children, Youth, and Families Department and the National T.E.A.C.H. project to address the issues of under-education, poor compensation, and high turnover within the early childhood workforce in New Mexico. Berry wrote a grant on behalf of the NMAEYC, and the T.E.A.C.H. program was funded to begin in Taos and Bernalillo Counties. She said the long-range plan is for the program to be implemented statewide.

FLAG DAY  JUNE 14

ENMU-ROSWELL CELEBRATES AVIATION MAINTENANCE TECHNICIAN DAY

The New Mexico State Legislature recently declared Monday, May 24 as Aviation Maintenance Technician (AMT) Day in New Mexico. The AMT program at Eastern New Mexico University-Roswell celebrated the day with a special ceremony at Pioneer Plaza. Roswell Mayor, Bill Owen read a proclamation honoring the life and memory of Charles E. Taylor, the world's first airplane mechanic and declaring May 24 as AMT Day in Roswell. The public was invited to attend.

Taylor worked as the mechanic for Orville and Wilbur Wright, and hand built the engine used by the Wright brothers when they successfully flew the first controlled powered airplane at Kitty Hawk in 1903. That successful flight allowed the Wright brothers to become historical icons. Few, however, know about the great contributions of Taylor, the first aviation mechanic. For this reason, Charles E. Taylor has been named the "Unsung Hero of Aviation".

"Through the efforts of State Representative, Avon Wilson, and the local legislative delegation, this is the first year that AMT Day will be recognized in New Mexico," said Dusty Heritage, Associate Dean of Career and Technical Education at ENMU-Roswell. "Because we have such a successful and thriving AMT program, we believe this is a wonderful opportunity to draw attention to those individuals who have contributed to the maintenance of air travel—from the man who built the first engine for powered flight, to all aviation mechanics nationwide. This recognition is well deserved, because it is through the efforts of our graduates and other AMT's that air travel is one of the safest modes of transportation today," she said.

State Representative Dan Foley spoke during the AMT Day ceremony. He thanked the university for a program that is bringing jobs and opportunities to Roswell.

A crowd of city leaders and ENMU-R employees gathered at Pioneer Plaza to celebrate AMT Day.

Dr. Judy Armstrong, Provost, presents a certificate of appreciation to Jerry DeLosh, who has been an Aviation Maintenance Technology instructor on the ENMU-R campus for 30 years. DeLosh has certified 175 aviation mechanics, who are now working all over the world.

Provost Armstrong presents a certificate of appreciation to Dave Partain, AMT instructor. Armstrong thanked all the faculty members, including Mike Montoya and Karen Cain, for the wonderful ways they contribute to aviation.

Rowell Mayor, Bill Owen read a proclamation declaring May 24, 2004 as AMT Day in Roswell.

Dr. Armstrong cuts the cake made for AMT Day.

WHAT'S NEW AT THE LRC

With baseball season going full blast, both at the local and professional levels, the Learning Resource Center is pleased to feature some new acquisitions that deal with the game and some of its legendary players. In Ted Williams: the Biography of an American Hero, author Leigh Montville has gone to great lengths to capture the life of this mercurial, combative, colorful, and hugely talented hitter – arguably the greatest the game has ever seen. William's passion for fishing, as well as his propensity for stringing together words of an extremely 'colorful' nature, is also thoroughly explored by the author.

Other baseball books new to the LRC this month include Bob Feller: Ace of the Greatest Generation, by John Sickels; A Farewell to Heroes, by Frank Graham, Jr.; Ten Rings: My Championship Seasons, by Yogi Berra with Dave Kaplan; and Saving the Pitcher: a Revolutionary Analysis of Pitching Injuries and How to Prevent Them, by Will Carroll.

Among the other new additions to the LRC are:

- ❖ Mall Maker: Victor Gruen, Architect of an American Dream, by M. Jeffrey Hardwick
- ❖ The Lives and Times of Bonnie & Clyde, by E.R. Milner
- ❖ Terrorism's War with America: a History, by Dennis Piszkiwicz
- ❖ If You Tame Me: Understanding Our Connection with Animals, by Leslie Irvine
- ❖ In Company: an Anthology of New Mexico Poets After 1960, edited by Lee Bartlett and V.B. Price
- ❖ Wings: a History of Aviation from Kites to the Space Age, by Tom D. Crouch
- ❖ Lone Star Rising: the Revolutionary Birth of the Texas Republic, by William C. Davis
- ❖ The Paradox of Choice: Why More is Less, by Barry Schwartz
- ❖ Godfather: the Intimate Francis Ford Coppola, by Gene D. Phillips
- ❖ Sabbath Creek: a Novel, by Judson Mitcham
- ❖ The First World War, Man of the Century: Winston Churchill and His Legend Since 1945, by John Ramsdem
- ❖ An End to Evil: How to Win the War on Terror, by David Frum and Richard Perle
- ❖ The Ten Commandments of Character: Essential Advice for Living an Honorable, Ethical, Honest Life, by Joseph Telushkin

ENMU-R'S DR. BURLERSON RECEIVES AWARD

Dr. Donald Burlerson, director of the Developmental Studies Lab at ENMU-R, has received an achievement award from the American Cryptogram Association, for having solved 4,000 cipher (code) messages published by the ACA. Over a period of years this involved solving polyalphabetic ciphers, polygraphic ciphers, numerical ciphers, transpositional ciphers, fractionalized ciphers, and cryptograms in over a dozen different languages. The ACA, whose membership includes both professional and amateur cryptanalysts, publishes such problems in its bimonthly journal for members to attempt to solve. Dr. Burlerson has done research in statistical cryptanalysis, and has discovered a new algorithm for isolating and identifying vowels in encoded texts.

TUTORING PROGRAM ENDS WITH PARTY AT MOUNTAIN VIEW MIDDLE SCHOOL

Eastern New Mexico University-Roswell partnered earlier this year with three south side schools to find solutions to issues that face families and children in these schools. The outreach effort is a 'Neighbors Helping Neighbors' project of the Rural Community College Initiative (RCCI), which is designed to promote community improvement activities. The Ford Foundation provides funding for the RCCI. The schools involved in the project are University High School, Mountain View Middle School, and Sunset Elementary School.

Several university employee volunteers began a tutor reading program at Mountain View Middle School. They were assigned to a specific student and read with that same student throughout the school year. At the end of the school year, the volunteers treated the students to a party. Students were treated to breakfast, then presented with a special duffel bag, and recognized for their hard work.

CANDID SHOTS FROM ENMU-ROSWELL'S 41ST COMMENCEMENT

Over 100 graduates participated in ENMU-R's 41st commencement on Thursday, May 6, at the Roswell Wool Bowl. As well as associate's degrees being awarded, bachelor's and master's degree candidates received their diplomas.

The Community Band provided music for the event.

The New Mexico Youth Challenge color guard presented colors.

ENMU-ROSWELL POOL OPENS

The ENMU-Roswell swimming pool opened to the public weekly on Saturday, May 22 and will be open through Sunday, August 15. After August 15, the pool will remain open on weekends and for special events through Sunday, September 5. Regular pool hours are from 1:00 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. Sunday through Saturday. Gate admission is $2 for adults and children under 11. ENMU-Roswell students and personnel with a valid I.D. card pay $1 and non-swimmers pay 50-cents.

Family swim nights are scheduled from 6:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. every Tuesday beginning May 25. Each family member will get in for $1 on Tuesday evenings. Season and monthly passes are also available and the pool can be reserved for special events. For pool reservations or for more information, call Frances Dubiel at 624-7250.

Area residents are invited to attend ENMU-Roswell's Community Splash Bash on Saturday, June 5 from 1:00 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. A special admission fee of only $1 will be charged per person. Residents can enjoy free Pepsi product beverages, 50-cent hot dogs, music, games, prizes and give-aways.

The ENMU-Roswell swimming pool will hold a food drive for Lend A Hand on Thursday, June 10 from 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. Admission is $1 or free pool admission to anyone who brings in a canned or non-perishable food item.

"FUNDER'S FORUM" WORKSHOP SCHEDULED

The first annual Funder's Forum Workshop will be held June 15-16 at the ENMU-Roswell Performing Arts Center beginning with registration from 8:30 a.m. to 9:00 a.m. The program is designed to provide non-profit agencies with tools to enhance their skills in working with funding agencies, writing grant proposals, and obtaining grant funding. Participants will have the opportunity to interact with local government leaders, representatives from governmental agencies, corporate foundations, private foundations, and fellow non-profit agencies.

Topics presented during sessions on Tuesday, June 15 include "Key Indicators in Southeastern New Mexico," "What Is the Role of City and County Government in Addressing Community Issues," "Creating Dialog with Funders," and panel presentations from funding representatives, including question and answer sessions.

The Tuesday program will culminate with an interactive table display/storyboard session from 3:15 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. in the ENMU-Roswell P.E. Center. Non-profit agencies are invited to create simple displays or storyboards that depict the services provided by the agency.

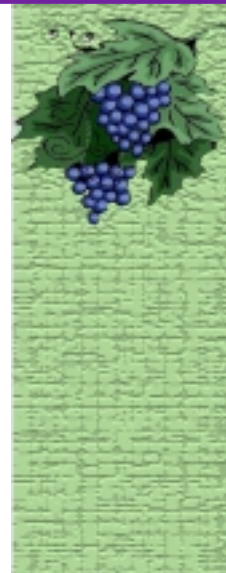

On Wednesday, June 16, a Grant Writing workshop will begin with registration from 8:00 a.m. to 8:30 a.m. in the ENMU-Roswell Occupational Technology Center, room 115. Participants will learn the basic steps in writing a successful proposal with opportunities for individualized assistance during the afternoon. Jane Batson, ENMU-Roswell Division of Health Chairperson, will be the lead instructor for the workshop.

From 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. on Wednesday, representatives from non-profit agencies in the area are invited to attend the regional meeting of the Non-Profit Governmental Organization (NGO) New Mexico, the non-profit association coordinated by Anne Egan from the New Mexico Community Foundation. The organization includes member non-profit organizations throughout New Mexico that are working together to leverage resources.

The cost for Tuesday, June 15 is $10, which includes lunch. Cost for the June 16 Grant Writing workshop is $50. The fee includes a comprehensive notebook and handouts. College credit of one credit hour is also available for this workshop.

The Funder's Forum is sponsored in part by a grant from the Ford Foundation Rural Community College Initiative through ENMU-Roswell. Additional sponsoring partners include the Community Foundation of Chaves County, Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Pecos Valley, Points North Learning Solutions, and the United Way of Chaves County. For registration information or questions, please contact Jane Batson or Shelly Ervin in the ENMU-Roswell Division of Health at 624-7235.
