

Guidelines

The purpose of the Concurrent Enrollment Program for Secondary Students is to provide a select number of high school students an opportunity to enroll for courses at Eastern New Mexico University and to earn college credit while still in high school.

Students who apply for concurrent enrollment are admitted to ENMU under a special 'non-degree seeking' category. Upon completion, the courses will appear on an official ENMU transcript and will be transferable to other colleges and universities. Please note that the student is not required to attend ENMU after graduation from high school to have the credit transferred to another institution.

A student may take a maximum of six semester hours per term. Any student wishing to take more than six hours must request and receive written approval from both the high school official and ENMU director of Enrollment Services.

Students admitted to the concurrent enrollment program are subject to all University academic regulations including those governing attendance, minimum grade point average and withdrawal. By signing the Concurrent Enrollment Program for Secondary Students form, students consent to the release of their ENMU academic records to the high school.

Financial aid will not be available to high school students participating in the program. Grades earned as a concurrent student may affect eligibility for financial aid in college. Contact Financial Aid if you have questions, 575-562-2194.

Admission Requirements

Admission to the Concurrent Enrollment Program is limited to students who have completed their sophomore year in high school. Each semester, students must fill out an application and have a high school official sign the recommendation section. Parent/guardian signature is also required. Students must have a minimum grade point average of 2.5 (based on a 4.0 scale) prior to each enrollment.

Individual high schools may require additional qualifications before certifying and recommending a student for this program. In all cases, the final decision for admission to the concurrent enrollment program is made by the ENMU director of Enrollment Services.

Application Procedure

The ENMU Concurrent Enrollment Program form must be completed before students will be considered for admission. Concurrent Enrollment Program applications are available from the ENMU Office of Enrollment Services and in the counseling offices of participating high schools.

'Non-Degree Seeking' Enrollment Agreement and Signature

It is agreed that enrollment in a course(s) at Eastern New Mexico University constitutes a special admission for the purpose of taking university courses and earning college credit while still enrolled in high school. This is not a regular admission; it is a special admission category outlined in the guidelines concerning the Concurrent Enrollment Program for Secondary Students. I have read the program guidelines concerning the Concurrent Enrollment Program for Secondary Students and I am aware of the regulations pertaining to enrollment.
